

Teatime Romance - February 2014, Downham Market

A song from 1943 is called "This is a lovely way to spend an evening" and the concert from Coro Stellante on Sunday was certainly that.

The singing was special and the afternoon tea, provided and served by the lady singers, definitely enhanced the enjoyment.

Well done everyone.

"Autumn Leaves" was my particular favourite - the piano accompaniment sounding in places, with the trill and arpeggios, just like the leaves falling. I think the whole audience was mesmerised by this as there was complete silence at the end as if no one wanted to break the spell by applauding.

It was magical.

Every song was excellent but to pick out others I would chose "So Deep is the Night", Nella Fantasia , and the fun song "Don't Fence me in " with three new soloists!! All completely different and very entertaining.

Congratulations Coro - you go from strength to strength.

Thank you for a lovely afternoon.
